Classwork and Homework

פשוט: of the entire Parsha – be able to translate any Pasuk given to you from the Parsha.

רש"י: You are responsible for the Rashi's in the chart below.

■ Where the column on the left says "Anticipate," you must attempt to predict what Rashi might ask about the words in the דיבור המתחיל.

■ Where the column on the left says "Dissect," you must be able to identify Rashi's answer and question, summarize and explain Rashi, and answer basic questions about the Rashi.

■ Where the column on the left says "Translate," you must be able to translate every word of the Rashi.

Class Discussions

As you work on P'shat and Rashi, be prepared for the following class discussions, which may also appear on your Yitro Test.

- 1) The Yitro Story: What do we learn about Moshe's personality from the Chumash and Rashi? What do we learn about conversion from the Chumash and Rashi?
- 2) Look "back" at כט-לב י: במדבר, especially the Rashi on ל פסוק there. Compare the story there with our story. How is it the same and/or different? Compare the Rashi on ל פסוק there to our Rashi in כז פסוק. Does Rashi give Yitro "equal treatment" in the two stories? Explain.
- 3) The עשרת הדברות: Is there a connection between the first and second half of the Parsha? If so, what is it?
- 4) Explain the term "דברות" עשרת ה. How many "Dibrot" are there? What does it mean for there to be ten (or more) "Dibrot" said at Har Sinai if we know from Avot and elsewhere that all Mitzvot are equally important? If some are to be "chosen," why these?
- 5) Compare the עשרת הדברות here and in Devarim (Parshat Va'etchanan). Note several differences, and give possible reasons brought by the Meforshim as to why these differences might exist.

Chumash Sketchpad

Use this space to show evidence of your ability to perform the tasks asked of you in the packet. This is your space to, as necessary, “Anticipate,” “Translate,” and “Dissect.” If you will be submitting your work digitally or in some other way, you may ignore this space.
